Dear Parents/Guardians,

The transition to middle school is one of the toughest periods during a child's school years for both parents and students. Students are eager to gain independence and ease from under their parents' control as well as face challenging middle school curriculum. By preparing for this transition phase, parents and students will ease into middle school with less stress and anxiety.

Enclosed are a few helpful academic materials to aid you in transitioning your student into middle school. We hope you find this information useful and can easily implement it into your family's routine. Remember, you can always contact your child's teacher, guidance counselor or principal if you have any questions or concerns.

Additionally, I would like to encourage you to become actively involved with your student's education and school. As a parent, you play a large part in your child's academic success and your involvement is essential. Sixth grade is a great time to begin involvement as your child has new teachers, friends and interests. Please contact me if you would like more information on how to get involved at Rehoboth Road Middle School.

Thank you,
